SCRIBING ALL SYMPTOMS. SYMPTOMS: The symptoms of Catarria, we they generally appear, are at first very slight. Ferome find they have a cold, that they have frequent attacks, and are more sensitive to the changes of temperature. In this condition, the mose may be dry, or a slight discharge, whin and acrid, alterwards becoming the discharges are increased in quantity and the discharges are increased in quantity and the shanged in quality; they are now thick and heavy and are hawhed or completed. The secretions are offusive, causing a had breath; the order is that and small; the syse are weak the simes of the small is immund or destroyed; deaferes frequently takes place. Another common and important symptom of Ostarria is, that the person is obliged to clear his threat in the marning of a thick or alliny mucus, which has falled down from the head during the night. When this that takes place the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to the image, and should lobe no timp in arresting it.
